

Cómo usar Analytics Hub

Anteriormente, exploraste Google Analytics Hub, una biblioteca de datos que permite a los publicadores compartir el acceso a intercambios, incluidos conjuntos de datos, modelos de aprendizaje automático y estadísticas. Como analista de datos en la nube, existen muchas oportunidades tanto para compartir conjuntos de datos como para acceder a ellos a través de Analytics Hub. En esta lectura, aprenderás a crear un intercambio y a acceder a conjuntos de datos.

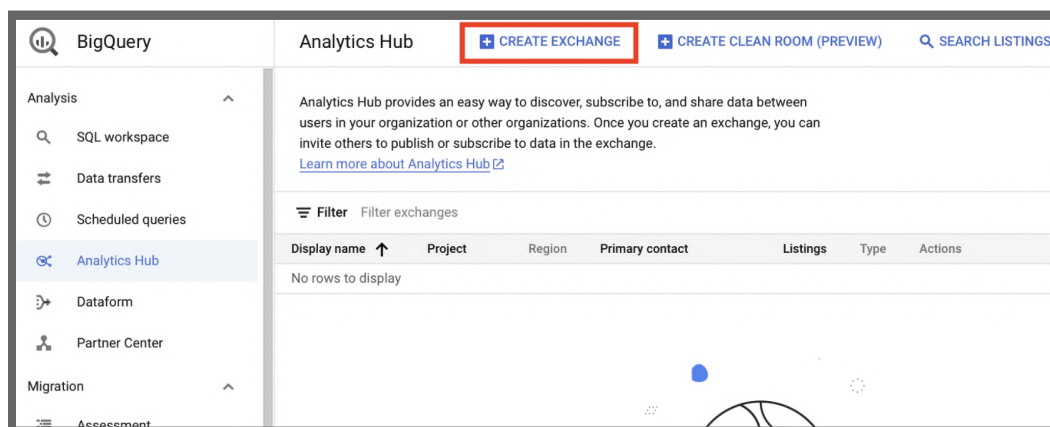

Crea un intercambio

Para crear tu propio intercambio de datos, sigue estos pasos:

1. Navega a la página de Analytics Hub.

2. Haz clic en CREAR INTERCAMBIO (CREATE EXCHANGE).

3. Selecciona el Proyecto (Project) y la Región (Region).

Busca un conjunto de datos

Para buscar y usar un conjunto de datos compartido públicamente, sigue estos pasos:

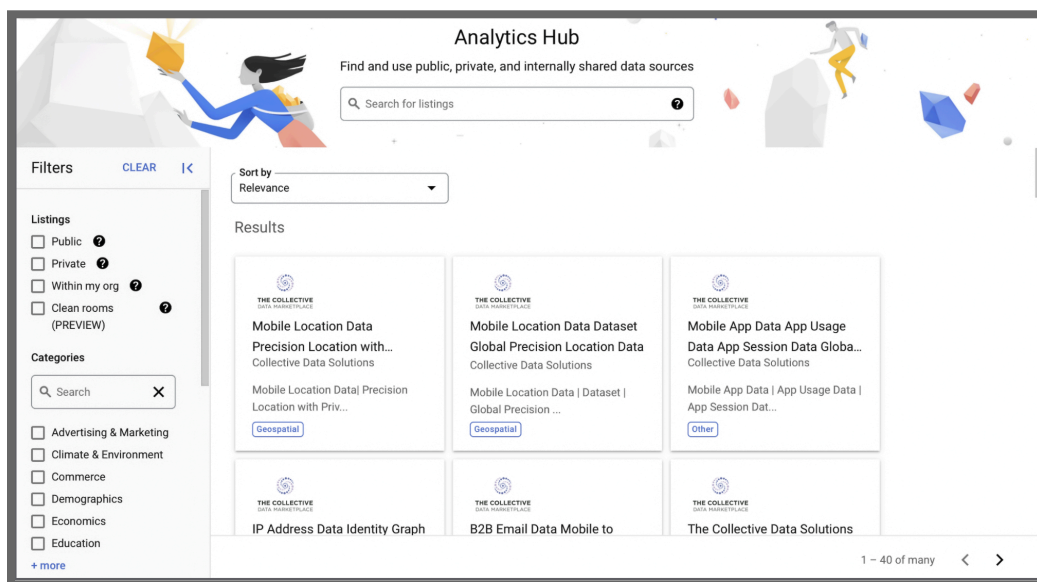

1. Navega a Analytics Hub en BigQuery.

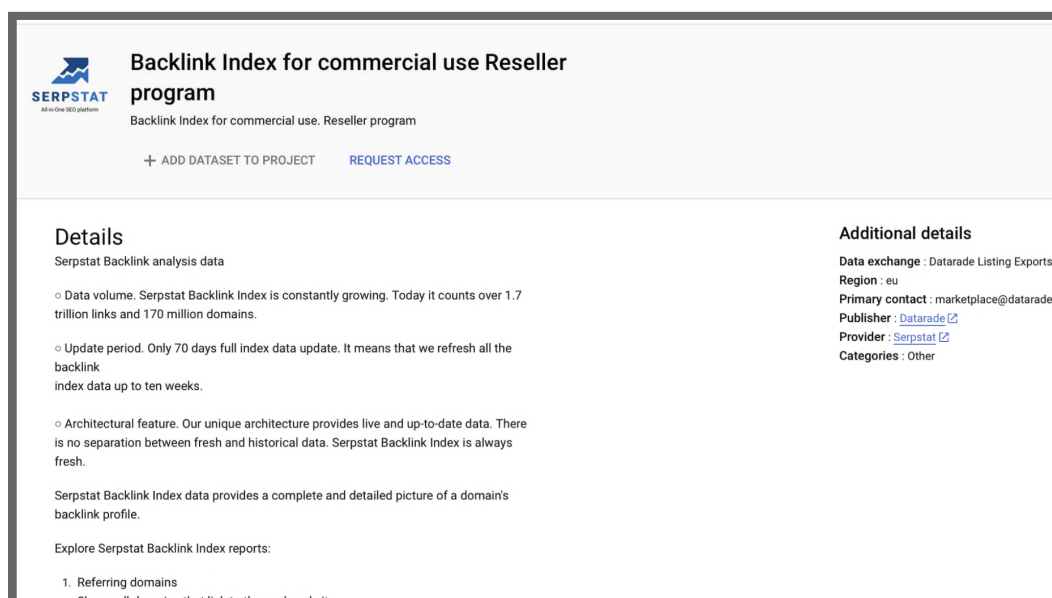

2. Haz clic en BUSCAR FICHAS (SEARCH LISTINGS).

3. Usa filtros o busca en Marketplace de Analytics Hub, y, desde este menú, selecciona tu conjunto de datos.

4. Selecciona AGREGAR CONJUNTO DE DATOS AL PROYECTO (ADD DATASET TO PROJECT).

Conclusiones principales

Puedes crear intercambios de conjuntos de datos y acceder a los conjuntos de datos publicados a través de Google Analytics Hub. También puedes crear y agregar intercambios a través de BigQuery sin código usando la interfaz de usuario.
